UNDERSTANDING

If we but tried to understand
People we meet on every hand,
We would discover many bear
Their unsuspected loads of care.

We would discover that the man
We thought was errant has a plan;
And, were his problems ours,
That we
Might not do half so well as he.

All things considered, people go
The best and safest roads
They know.
The person we condemn the most
May have tried hardest,
Yet have lost.

The better path some other goes
May have been closed to him.
Who knows?
There would be good will
In the land,
If we but tried to understand.

Clarence Edwin Flynn

IT IS BETTER TO Trust IN THE LORD
THAN TO PUT CONFIDENCE IN MAN.
Psalm 118:8
